av aithe Judicious Advice. We invite attention to the following judicious suggestions from a source at once friendly and enlightened by experience—the Rafeigh Sentinel which says tall out to : xalvia

"There are two or three things against which we would warn the opponents of the constitution in Virginia. They must not rely too much upon speech making, and the eclat with which the appeals of their able speakers will be re-ceived. Never, since North Carolina had an existence; was there a more able, carnest and powerful canvass, than the one through which we have djust passed. The canvassers and speech makers of the Radioals, throughout the State were very ordinary. All over the State their mass meetings and speeches were poorly attended, especially by white persons. On the other hand, among the Conservatives, the first men of the State, and the ablest in every county, addressed large crowds of anxious listeners, at every point. More effective, able speaking we have never had, and the enthusiasm excited by these efforts exceeded anything before known. Large numbers, both whites and blacks, flocked to hear them, dutil the blacks were admonished, through the Leagues to stay away. This led to the universal conviction that we should carry the State overwhelmingly. But amid the crowds were number of quiet, still men, who listened attentively, but were uninfluenced, because they were too fimid to resist the threats of confiscation, &c., unless the State "went back.". The only possible charce of moving this class of persons was by private counsel and instruction.

"It is plain, therefore, that organization and steady work, up to the day of election, and activity at the polls, were essential to success. Nor do we believe that all effort to instruct and control the colored vote, either in North Carolina or Virginia, is unavailing. Quite a number of colored men in the State were conwinced that it was their true interest to vote with the Conservatives, with men they had known long and well, in preference to being led by strangers and scalawags. The great objects, therefore, to be secured in Virginia, we tell our friends, are compact organization, and hard persistent work until the election is over.'

THE MEMORIAL WINDOW.-This beautiful window, which has created a sensation, was placed in Trinity Church by the Rev. John H. Wingfield, in memory of the 'Confederate' dead of his congregation. With the purest motives at heart, never dreaming that any one North or South could possibly take offence at so laudable an object, this venerable divine at his own expense donated this sacred memorial as an Easter present to his congregation. It was excuted in New York city, where it was admired, and not a word of disapproval expressed. The design represents Rachael weeping at the tomb, on which are inscribed the names of those belonging to the congregation who were killed or died during the war, and under it is a simple explanatory inscription, the substance of which is, that it was placed there in memory of those of the congregation who lost their lives "in defending their native State, Virginia, from the invasion of the United States forces." It was on Easter Sunday that the congregation first saw it, all appeared to admire it, and not one of the numerous throng on that day left the church; or refused to approach the communion table because of its presence. The next day it was rumored that an indignation meeting had actually been held at the Navy Yard by a few members of the congregation, resulting in the withdrawal from the church, and the reporting to Washington that this Southern congregation had, by a tribute of respect to its dead, outraged their honor, and insulted their manly pride; and as a result we see it announced in the press that the issuing of an order has been threatened from Washington, requiring the removal of the window, and threatening to close the church and the Navy Yard if the order was not obeyed. From whom this piece of petty tyranny originated we are not informed, and did not suppose there was a man in Washington, save B. F. Butler who would have been guilty of such an unchristian and cowardly act towards a conquered people. Norfolk Vir.

VALUBLE DISCOVERY. - Mr. John W. Goodwyn, one of the most experienced and practical chemists in this city, has recently discovered a process for bleaching paper stock and other similar substances, which is destined, we believe, to prove very valuable. The process is not only thorough but rapid in its action, and possessess advantages which cannot but be admitted by all who have any knowledge of the manufacture and bleaching of paper stock .-Petersburg Index.

AGENTS WANTED FOR THE OFFICIAL HISTORY OF THE WAR, Its Causes, Character, Conduct and Results.

By HON. ALEX. H. STEPHENS.

A BOOK FOR ALL SECTIONS AND ALL

PARTIES. This great work presents the only complete and impartial analysis of the Causes of the War yet published, and gives those interior lights and shadows of the great conflict only known to those high officers who watched the flood-tide of revolution from its fountain springs, and which were so accessible to Mr. Stephens from his position as second officer of the Confederacy. To a public that has been surfeited with apparently similar productions, we promise a change of fare, both agreeable and salutary, and an intellectual treat of the highest order .-The Great American War has at last found a historian worthy of its importance, and at whose hands it will receive that moderate, candid and impartial treatment which truth and justice so urgently demand.

The intense desire everywhere manifested to obtain this work, its official character and ready sale, combined with an increased commission, make it the best subscription book ever pub-

ORGANIO WEAKNESS Immediately cured and full vigor restored, This distressing affection, which renders life miserable and marriage impossible, is the penalty paid by the victims of impropriety .-Young persons are too apt to commit ex-cesses from not being aware of the dreadful consequences that may ensue. Now, who that understands the subject will pretend to deny that the power of procreation is lost sooner by those falling into improper habits than by the prudent? Besides being deprived of the pleas ure of healthy offspring, the most serious and destructive symptoms of both body and mind arise. The System becomes deranged, the Physical and Mental Functions Weakened, Loss of Procreative Power, Nervous Irritability, Dyspepsia, Palpitation of the Heart, Indigestion, Constitutional Debility, and Wasting

JOHNSON, Member of the Royal College of Surgeons, London, Graduate of one of the most eminent part of whose life has been spent in the als of London, Paris, Philadelphia, and else where, has effected some of the most astonishing cures that were ever known, many troubled with ringing in the head and ears when asleep, great nervousness, being alarmed at sudden sounds, bashfulness, with frequent blushing, attended sometimes with derangement of mind, were cured immediately. TAKE PARTICULAR NOTICE. Dr. J. addresses all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and soli-tary habits, which ruin both body and mind, unlitting them for either business, study, society or marriage. These are some of the sad and melancholy effects produced by early habits of youth, viz Weakness of the Back and Limbs, Pains in the Head, Dimness of Sight, Loss of Muscular Power, Palpitation of the Heart, Dyspepsia, Nervous Irritability, Derangement of the Digestive Functions, General Debility, Symptoms of Consumption, &c.

When the misguided and imprudent votary of pleasure finds that he has imbibed the seeds of this painful disease it too often happens that an ill-timed sense of shame or dread of discovery deters him from applying to those, who from education and respectability, can alone befriend him, delaying till the constitutional symptoms of this horrid disease make their appearance, such as ulcerated sore throat, disease nose, nocturnal pains in the head and limbs, dimness of sight, deafness, nodes on the shinbones and arms, blotches on the head, face and extremities, progressing with frightful rapidity till at last the palate of the mouth or the bones of the nose fall in, and the victim of this awful disease becomes a horrid object of commisseration, till death puts a period to his dreadful suf ferings, by sending him to "that Und scovered Country from whence no traveller returns."

It is a MELANCHOLY FACT that thou sands fall victims to this terrible disease, owing to the unskilfulness of ignorant pretenders, who, y the use of that DEADLY POISON, MFR.
